

Don Claussen

Managing Director

Securities & Guaranteed Loan Markets

I have been in the business for over 25 years and I have consistently assisted my customers in successfully achieving their investment objectives. I pride myself on being a good listener so that I can identify my clients specific needs. Once those needs have been identified, it allows me to provide you with the right security at the right time and price. My goal is to improve your performance be it against a benchmark or on a total return basis.

My firm possesses an accomplished team of traders in tandem with the very best in portfolio analytical services. Our solid capital base enables us to take positions in a variety of fixed and floating rate securities. This enhances my ability to provide my customers the service excellence they deserve.
