

Matt Hayes

Managing Director
Securities & Guaranteed Loan Markets

My journey into the business world was not traditional. I believe my background and experience offer a unique perspective that will richly reward my customers. Having spent part of my career on the buy side, I understand what clients value in their relationships with their brokers.

The recognition that each client is unique and has different goals and objectives allows me to build successful relationships. By using the vast array of resources available to me at Coastal, and my business experience, I am able to foster these relationships and meet my customers' needs and expectations.
