

Steven Douglas

Senior Vice President
Securities & Guaranteed Loan Markets

Building a strong portfolio requires more than just one transaction. It takes a carefully designed strategy and plan for implementation. My main objective is to provide each of my clients with the attention required to fulfill these needs. Anyone can simply take orders. However, I believe that a strong relationship, based on trust and integrity, must be formed before the first trade takes place. I am committed to working closely with my clients and my support staff to ensure the highest level of customer service.
